Gilb, Lauber, Saelid Win In Arcadia Council Race

By HELEN O. SCHRADER
Arcadia Correspondent

Charles E. Gilb, Mrs. Floretta Lauber and Jack Saelid were the winners in the hotly contested Arcadia city council race in which 14 candidates vied for three vacant seats. Gilb and Lauber took commanding leads from the very beginning. A see-saw battle between Saelid and Irvin I. Livingston Jr. existed until about half the precincts reported in.

At that point Saelid began forging ahead, showing strength in his home area, the Santa Anita Rancho.

Gilb ran first in 18 out of the 32 precincts. Mrs. Lauber, who appeared to be riding on Gilb's coattails, placed first in only two precincts. However, she consistently ran a strong second to Gilb.

Saelid ran first in five precincts and Livingston in two in his home territory.

Reuben Ruiz, a political unknown until a few months ago, who was expected to show considerable strength, took only two precincts, both in the area south of Huntington Drive, from which most of his support was expected to come.

Another unknown, John Mynster, led in one precinct near his home.

The primary issue was considered to be community redevelopment. Saelid's strength was in an anti-CRA provision, again particularly in his home territory. Gilb and Lauber, both soft on CRA, carried on aggressive campaigns without delving too deeply into issues.

Other issues that were debated were the need for a civic auditorium, and a utility tax exemption for senior citizens.

A prime issue with all of them was the need for better communications between the city and the residents and personnel relations within the city staff. Both the Arcadia fire department and police department have suits against the city, primarily charging salary inequities. All the candidates promised to rectify this problem.

Two charter changes, Propositions A and B on the ballot, lost by a 3 to 1 margin. Proposition A would have extended a councilman's tenure to three consecutive terms rather than the two consecutive terms provided in the charter now.

Proposition B provided for a runoff election unless candidates got at least 40 per cent of the vote. The present city council proposed the charter changes, but all the candidates were opposed.

An unofficial tally showed that approximately 31 per cent of the 27,266 registered voters went to the polls. The average in Arcadia is between 25 and 30 per cent.

Frenchmen Resentful Of Nixon

PARIS (AP) — French officials are resentful that President Nixon went politicking in Paris while President Georges Pompidou was still fresh in his grave.

There has been no official comment or protest.

"But this does not mean that we were necessarily pleased with Nixon's behavior here," one official source said.

The state-owned television system and progovernment newspapers noted critically that Nixon met with six world leaders here while France had only an interim president in office.

Nixon attended a 55-minute memorial service for Pompidou here last Saturday and met with acting President Alain Poher for another 45 minutes. Then he spent a total of seven hours conferring with the leaders of the Soviet Union, Japan, West Germany, Britain, Denmark and Italy.

"The spectacle of Mr. Nixon holding court in Paris and receiving . . . the homage of certain of his European vassals is just a big show . . ." Le Figaro said Tuesday. It was meant "above all to show to the American people that their President, despite Watergate, has not lost credit with Europeans.

Le Figaro said . . . "this show was judged in political circles to be a supreme lack of tact."

U.N. Tackles World Crisis In Economics

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations General Assembly tackled the world economic crisis Tuesday on a keynote warning from Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim that "the well-being and prosperity of all nations are now threatened."

Waldheim told delegates from 135 nations, including heads of state and foreign ministers, the three-week special session "may be decisive in determining the quality and condition of mankind's future life on this planet."

In a prepared speech, Waldheim suggested the assembly address itself to six problems — mass poverty, population, food,
